The Alabaster Box Dailey Devotional

As little girls we look through the windows of life like a fairy tale. From the time we can remember we play house with our dolls and wait for our prince charming to ride in on his white horse and sweep us off our feet. Too often our prince is a frog, and the realities of life never measure up to the fantasy we had hoped for.

Today, many women grow up without fathers, or for that matter "anyone" to take care of them. Some women grow up with fathers, but emotionally their father's simply weren't there. This vacuum only feeds the need for the fantasy, while leaving a devastating hole in the fabric of our spiritual and mental stability. I don't want to presume to know what your situation may or may not be, but I can tell you that there is a God who can and will restore the years life has stolen from you. Let your Heavenly Father heal your heart. Don't live your life boxed in by your past. Give The Lord a chance to show you life outside the box. Let Him show you who He is. More importantly, let Him show you who he thinks you are.
